Steve and Ruth Moore | Lead Pastors, Bethel Online

Hi, Bethel Austin — Steve and Ruth Moore here in Redding. And we just wanted to take a moment to say Happy New Year and also to share some of the things that we are sensing the Lord saying and sharing over your church and community.

We are loving what we're hearing God do in your guys' church and in your city, and we are just so thankful for your yes, and being an extension of the Bethel family across the globe. And while we were praying, I really had the sense that God was bringing technology catalysts into your church. And I feel like there's some already. But I just saw this partnership of God bringing high influential leaders in the technology space and partnering with the church. And I saw this marketplace revival begin to take place, and I saw many people within the church being raised up as Josephs under Pharaohs with CEOs and COOs. And I just saw these massive bridges forming, not just from company to company, but from different churches within the city. And I feel like the Lord is going to release blueprints and strategies to see heaven come and touch earth in the marketplace in Austin.

Also, as we were praying, I was reminded of a word that we're kind of living on here in Bethel, Redding, of the new era. There's a new era in the Spirit and new things are happening. And I felt the Lord remind me of that. I believe that the new era is to be marked by radical faith and incredible outpouring of the miraculous. There's an increase in signs and wonders and specifically signs that make you wonder. And I know in Austin, you guys have seen the most incredible breakthroughs and miracles. Obviously, Joaquin and Renée are incredible at facilitating and carrying the atmosphere. But I believe there's about to be an increase, and it's going to be like never before. It's going to be signs when people come in and they wonder as the manifest, tangible presence of God shows up, in ways that create this childlike sense of wonder. I believe the radical miracles you're going to see are going to go beyond what the church and believers are seeing and actually the community are going to know that if you need a miracle, that this is the place to go. I believe that people are going to come in on their last-ditch attempt for a miracle.

And then I felt like the Lord said, "I'm blessing families." And I had a picture of families gathering together and the presence of God just showing up and the encounter realm being so available. And then I heard the Lord say, "I'm establishing identity within family."

And I believe he's going to do that within actual families and with kids, but I also saw people coming in. And the Lord said He's going to "grow your number with people coming in because of the hospitality and the atmosphere of family."

And I want to encourage you to start actually looking for people to invite them and bring them in. And as they encounter family, it's almost going to be this kind of re-parenting of who people are, and then re-establishment of their identity and who they were born to be in Christ. And as a result of that, I heard the Lord say, "dream factory." And I feel like there's going to be something over Bethel Austin that, as people are reestablished in their identity, their purpose, and the dreams that are inside of them are going to flourish and begin to happen.

I heard the similar word of God saying this phrase, "I'm apprehending families and it's starting with the kids. And I just saw all these children within Bethel Austin just having encounters with God and it's spilling over to their parents. And I just saw reconciliation between marriages. I saw people that were divorced coming back together and getting remarried. And I just saw healing coming on with all families, but it started with the manifest presence of God through encounter.

And then I even saw families being invited in that weren't a part of your community, that didn't know the Lord. And I saw the kids getting saved within school and then going to their parents and sharing it in their parents, noting this shift in this change, and then the parents coming to Christ through their kids being saved.

And so we just want to bless you guys. We love you so much. We're so excited for what the Lord's doing and just really believing that this year would be marked by radical miracles, favor, blessing, and outpouring.

Bless you guys. Have an amazing 2025.
